On a long weekend in June, the insured experienced a total telephone system failure due to a power surge. Extensive damage was caused to a number of major components requiring the installation of new replacement equipment. The repair company could not pinpoint the actual cause of the surge, however, lightning was ruled out as a possibility in that no electrical storms were reported at the time of loss.

The system was down for one working day. Employees were able to conduct business using mobile phones.
